

Verbier, 27 July 2023

Panora’Malt, the highest beer festival in Europe

After two hugely successful editions, Téléverbier’s open-air beer festival, Panora’Malt, will once again be taking place this year at an altitude of 2,200 metres. On 29 and 30 July, lovers of hops and music will come together for a jam-packed, exciting weekend at La Chaux mountain pasture. This location offers magnificent views of the Combins massif and has the advantage of easy access by cable car from Le Châble, Verbier and Nendaz.

The festival will showcase eight brewers from French-speaking Switzerland, delighting festivalgoers with samples of their beers. Rock bands on the main stage will add to the excitement of the weekend, while children can play to their hearts’ content in the fun zone, with bouncy castles as the star attraction.

On arrival, festivalgoers will receive a glass (included in the price) to sample the many beers on offer, starting from CHF 1 for 100ml. To refuel, head to the food stands serving expertly prepared burgers, fresh salads, crispy nachos, Tuscan sausages with pretzels, and waffles to round things off with a sweet treat.

Useful information

How to get there: By cable car from Verbier, Le Châble and Nendaz (4Vallées) or directly on foot.

Opening times: 10.30am to 7pm, with guaranteed return journey by cable car to Verbier and Le Châble.

Ticket price: Admission only: CHF 7. Special offer, including admission and ski lift access for CHF 36. New this year: holders of a Verbier 4Vallées pass get free entry to Panora’Malt with their voucher booklet.

More info: www.verbier4v.ch/panoramalt

Programme

Saturday, 29 July

10.30am – Brewers’ Village opens

1pm – À l’EQuerre concert

4pm – Kenny Matt and The Broken Arms concert

7pm – Closing time

Sunday, 30 July

10.30am – Brewers’ Village opens

1pm – Overgrass concert

4pm – Wintershome concert

7pm – Closing time

For more information:

Tanja Broch
Events Coordinator
Téléverbier SA
t.broch@televerbier.ch
+41 (0)27 775 25 11

Alain Michellod
Sales and Marketing Manager
Téléverbier SA
a.michellod@televerbier.ch
+41 (0)27 775 25 11